Tech commentaries:

The Royal Dutch Shell plc stock price gained 1.10% on the last trading day (Friday, 10th May 2024), rising from $36.40 to $36.80. It has now gained 3 days in a row. It will be exciting to see whether it manages to continue gaining or take a minor break for the next few days. During the last trading day the stock fluctuated 0.82% from a day low at $36.50 to a day high of $36.80. The price has risen in 6 of the last 10 days and is up by 1.29% over the past 2 weeks. Volume has increased on the last day along with the price, which is a positive technical sign, and, in total, 123 more shares were traded than the day before. In total, 6 thousand shares were bought and sold for approximately $215.50 thousand.

The stock lies in the middle of a strong rising trend in the short term and a further rise within the trend is signaled. Given the current short-term trend, the stock is expected to rise 19.95% during the next 3 months and, with a 90% probability hold a price between $42.15 and $46.20 at the end of this 3-month period.

The Royal Dutch Shell plc stock holds buy signals from both short and long-term Moving Averages giving a positive forecast for the stock. Also, there is a general buy signal from the relation between the two signals where the short-term average is above the long-term average. On corrections down, there will be some support from the lines at $35.95 and $35.03. A breakdown below any of these levels will issue sell signals. A buy signal was issued from a pivot bottom point on Monday, April 22, 2024, and so far it has risen 9.23%. Further rise is indicated until a new top pivot has been found. Royal Dutch Shell plc has increased volume and follows the last lift in the price. This is considered to be a technical positive sign as volume should follow the price-formation. Higher liquidity also reduces the general risk. Some negative signals were issued as well, and these may have some influence on the near short-term development. Furthermore, there is currently a sell signal from the 3 month Moving Average Convergence Divergence (MACD).

Royal Dutch Shell plc finds support from accumulated volume at $36.45 and this level may hold a buying opportunity as an upwards reaction can be expected when the support is being tested. There is no resistance from accumulated volume above today's level and given the right condition the stock may perform very well during the next couple of days.

In general the stock tends to have very controlled movements and with good liquidity the risk is considered very low in this stock. During the last day, the stock moved $0.300 between high and low, or 0.82%. For the last week the stock has had daily average volatility of 2.36%.

Royal Dutch Shell plc holds several positive signals and is within a strong rising trend. As the old saying says, "Let the trend be your friend.". We therefore consider it to be a good choice at these current levels and we are expecting further gains during the next 3 months. We have upgraded our analysis conclusion for this stock since the last evaluation from a Buy to a Strong Buy candidate.

Risk: Low

Evaluation: Strong Buy Candidate
